Got a complicated mess?

Chester will clean it up.

"I can't say enough good things about Chester. He really helped me go through a challenging transition in order for me to chase my dreams of living in Hawaii. I had a great associate who did not have a lot of years of experience and was interested in purchasing my practice. Because this was his first transition, he had advisors that were not dental specialists. As you could imagine, that made things difficult. Chester helped me navigate the frustrations and challenges of dealing with their team and was super responsive in all his communications to both me and the other party. He noticed a few discrepancies and cleared them up swiftly. He also helped accomplish this in a very short period of time!" Tony K.

HOW SOME BROKERS GET MORE THAN THEIR FAIR SHARE

The notion of selling your dental practice with the accounts receivable and moving headache free into retirement is appealing. But that is only true if you were to sell all of your accounts receivable. There is no logical reason, other than lining the broker's pocket, to include a portion of your accounts receivable only to take back the uncollectable accounts after the buyer has skimmed the initial money collected.

The broker might assert that by including the first $40,000 of your accounts receivable in the sale will give the buyer their necessary working capital. Nonsense! The buyer can borrow the same $40,000 from the bank. They don't need any of your accounts receivable. The real reason is that by including that initial $40,000 of your accounts receivable increases the sale price of the practice which increases the "perceived" value that you are getting for your practice and it increases the broker's commission. Nothing more, nothing less.

There are some valid reasons to include the accounts receivable with the sale of a practice, i.e. if you are moving out of state, making it difficult for you to do any rebilling after the buyer's time for billing your accounts has expired or if the sale is occurring as a consequence of the death of the practitioner. In those cases, all of the accounts receivable are sold and sold at a discount, because not all of the accounts receivable will be collected and the buyer will need to wait for their money as opposed to using a line of credit from the bank.

If accounts receivable are being sold, Lee Skarin and Associates does not charge a commission on the portion of the sales price attributed to those accounts receivable. No broker should be that greedy. For all your practice sale questions, call Kurt Skarin at Bogdan and Art were very knowledgeable of all aspects of my practice sale. From Bogdan personally taking the information provided, writing the prospectus, promoting the practice and then finding interested parties. The network of parties already established, helped to facilitate the sale. With many new obstacles due to the pandemic, his persistence led to the sale of the practice in a timely manner. As a team during closing, Bogdan and Art were prepared and organized for a smooth transition.

A scammer going by the name Dr. Jon Schaefer (and probably several others) using the email address jonschaefer77@gmail.com is currently running a scam wherein he replies to dentists advertising pricier items for sale in The Dental Trader and sends them a fake Cashier's Check for the purchase price plus a hefty shipping fee. He contacts the seller using the phone number 773-347-3557 and directs them to contact his shipping company at 424-409-5363 to arrange transportation of the item(s) and requests you remit payment to the shipping company using Zelle. This information comes to us from a doctor who reads and advertises in The Dental Trader and recognized the attempted fraud. The shipping company appears to be illegitimate too, using the email address numberskizerallestoole@gmail.com. A Google search turns up no results.

This is what Matadors step in.

Never agree to ship any merchandise to a buyer until you are paid in full and if you accept a check of any kind, make sure it clears and the funds are in your possession before you ship anything. We don't see scumbags here often...this is only the 3rd time in our company history we have been alerted to such a scam. We are sharing this information with you, our readers...for your protection. We can screen out bad advertisers but we cannot stop people posing as interested buyers. There are a few bad people out there, sellers beware.

"Fazel is extremely efficient and highly knowledgeable. He is incredibly kind, detailed, experienced, and compassionate. I consult him for my orthodontic practice financial plans, and he has never let me down. He also educates dentists and medical professionals through webinars and educational videos. He always looks out for your best interest and he is there to help you succeed. I would highly recommend him to anyone looking for a new CPA! He is brilliant!"

In the past 20 years of doing dentistry, I have never met a more responsive, more knowledgeable, and more informative CPA! Not only is he an amazing and thorough accountant, but he'll guide you through the entire process of practice buying, selling, and start ups from the beginning till the very end. He is always up to date with the latest guideline. His very informative webinars during covid have been a lifesaver for the dental community. He's honest, ethical, and very prudent in the business of practice acquisition, which unfortunately is a rare and valuable trait in this business. His referrals are based on his own research and experience and for the best interest of his clients. I can not recommend him enough:)

We see the relationship between a business and its accountant as a partnership. We achieve this relationship in many ways, but first and foremost by working side by side with our client partners throughout the year, instead of just on a reactionary basis.

My wife and I are both dentist. We are working with Fazel and his team for last several years. Almost for everything related to our dentistry business from consult, accounting, and transition from associate dentists to business owners. The best part was helping us and guiding us from all process of finding office, getting loan, business plan and follow up. In last 3 years we started 2 new start up offices, and both offices doing well. He was always with us. When he says he is gonna do something, it is done. No excuses, no surprises, no disappointments. We trust him to honor his word 100% of the time. That's rare these days. He is still a big part of our businesses. We couldn't imagine to do this without his help. Highly recommended. If you are a dentist. Do yourself a favor, give him a call.

I have been a client of Fazel's for several years now and he has made my life VERY stress free, both professionally and personally. He's helped me through my process at acquiring a dental practice and understanding the numbers involved which I was totally clueless of. It was a very stressful time in my life but having an experienced CPA/financial advisor on my side made everything so streamlined. He's also benefited me personally with retirement planning and overall tax planning. I could not recommend anyone better for any financial services, both Personal and/or business. Fazel is definitely the best!!!
