Our Story:

Dental Elite is a Family owned & operated business. We have been in the US dental market for over 10 years. The company was started by Mary & Paul Zajac with the purpose of providing high quality dental products at affordable prices. In a past career Paul was an executive with a large candy company and is now in what he calls, "the redemptive stage of his life". He went from causing cavities to helping prevent them. The company was actually created after doing some market research for some oral hygiene companies. While researching, Paul found out how much money dental offices were having to pay for their free giveaways. Like many consumers, he had thought that these items were giveaways from the national companies (who billboard their brand name on everything) just like drug companies give out samples of their product through doctors offices. He determined there must be a better way to save dental offices money and that is how Dental Elite came into being.

Mary & Paul have 3 grown children who have joined the company full time after graduating from college. They enjoy working together as a family, and understand the needs of family run businesses like many of the dental offices they service.

Call Dental Elite and see how they will cater to your needs. The Zajac family actually does something very unique in today's business environment, they answer the phones in person. No hitting this # or that # to get a live person to help you, Dental Elite understands that your time is valuable and they respect that.

At Dental Elite, you are more than a customer, you're part of the family!

Interceptive and Minor Orthodontic Procedures That General Dentists Can do Themselves

Speaker-Instructor: Rob Veis, DDS

Rob Veis, DDS began Practice in 1984 as a solo general dentist, later evolving into a member of a group practice. He taught restorative dentistry for 12 years at USC as a clinical professor. He has lectured and taught nationally on the subject of orthodontic treatment that GPs can and should do in their practices. Many of Dr. Veis's courses are for AGD audiences that combine orthodontics with restorative dentistry.

Program Synopsis

There are many instances where minor tooth movement can greatly improve the outcome of restorative and esthetic dental treatments. Often these conditions present themselves during the restorative phase of treatment when referral to an orthodontist could be counter-productive or impractical. Dr. Veis will show us how minor tooth movement with fixed and/or removable appliances can easily be done in a profitable and effective manner and earn the gratitude of many of our patients. Also included will be splint therapy, sports dentistry, sleep apnea and the making of tooth position retention appliances.
